Praise God with us:

- We have 98% of our support.
- We are pregnant, due December 22nd!

Please remember us in prayer:

- Andy and Judah's safety as they travel this month.
- Good weather for construction on land.
- God's protection over Elizabeth and baby during this pregnancy.
- Judah's health and salvation.

Opportunities to Serve:

We have been so thankful for the ways that God is using us during this project, our first building assignment.

Andy continues to work diligently on the "shop" here on the CBM campus. Since he has been here they have put drywall on the ceiling and walls and many other things. Andy has especially been enjoying learning more about electrical work. The gentlemen he is working along side has much wisdom and experience to offer in that area. When Andy is working alone, he tends to work a lot on mudding and taping and making finishing touches on the dry wall.

The church we are attending, Maranatha Baptist Church in Cedar Springs, has been such a blessing to us, and we are pleased to have several opportunities to serve along side the church members. Andy has volunteered to help out with several church maintenance issues, mainly involved with landscaping. He will also have the opportunity to help them with their roofing project next month, August 9-14. I am hoping to help out with their VBS if I can, which is also next month.

God has also given Andy several opportunities to fill pulpit at area churches, the most recent of which being last Sunday. We both love these opportunities to meet new people and to be used by God in that way!

Big Trip to Iowa:

Please keep our family in prayer during the rest of this month, especially. Andy and Judah will be traveling to Iowa and could be there for a total of 15 days.

Andy's goal during this trip is to get the grading, sewage, electric and water organized and/or established on our property back in Marshalltown, Iowa. He will also be speaking during an afternoon workshop at the CBM family conference which is always held in Ankeny, IA. Andy and Judah will be staying with Andy's parents and Judah will be enjoying lots of time with grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins.

You can pray for their safety on the road, good weather for the construction work on the land, and also for health and safety for me and the baby while Andy is away. I will be staying in Michigan in order to continue with my weekly doctor appointments. Also, it would be against my doctor's advice to travel at this point in the pregnancy, so I will stay back and miss my two guys!

I have big plans for my time alone, however! I hope to finish Judah's scrapbook/baby book and do lots of reading! But, above all, I plan to take it very easy because neither Andy or I want any kind of pregnancy emergencies while he's gone!

Update on our "babies":

I say "babies" in quotes because it is quickly becoming apparent that Judah is not a baby anymore! He has grown and matured so much in the past few months that calling him my baby, I'm finding, seems to be silly and out-dated. He has accomplished and experienced many "firsts" in the past few months: first haircut, first steps, first time swimming, first ice cream cone, first bonfire, first kiss (given to Mommy!), first fireworks display, first parade, first time swinging and I'm sure there were more. As one person told me recently, you can tell the whole world is at Judah's disposal! He is so observant and doesn't miss a thing!

Our other baby is now 17 weeks along and doing great! We recently had an in-depth ultrasound and things with the baby and me look as good as can be, praise the Lord! We will continue to watch things very closely as the pregnancy progresses.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PRAYERS AND SUPPORT!
